Headline:
Turning unsettled and showery this weekend and into next week.

Today:
Rather cloudy with scattered showers, these possibly heavy and thundery. Brightening up from the south during the afternoon, with sunny spells developing. Rather warm but feeling humid. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers will die out during the evening, followed by clear spells. However, it'll soon become cloudier from the south, with outbreaks of rain spreading across most parts around dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunshine and showers, these frequent and occasionally heavy with a risk of thunder in the west and north. Perhaps remaining largely dry in the far southeast. Feeling humid. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Largely dry bright or sunny on Monday. Some isolated showers. Sunshine and showers on Tuesday and Wednesday, occasionally heavy with thunder. Cooler. Windy on Tuesday, with gales on south coast.
